HOLIDAY GIFT

CATHOLIC CONGREGATION HAS PLEASANT SURPRISE FOR FATHER O'NEILL

At the Holy Family Catholic Church in Glendals, a sunrise service was conducted by Rev. James O'Neill at 7:30 o'clock Thursday morning, at which he gave a Thanksgiving talk and history of the day, its meaning to the people of the United States, pointing out the special fitness of an ackiowledgment of the nation's indebtedness to God at this time of victory and peace. "Our motto is 'In God We Trust,' and that is the motto we have on our dollars," said he. "We should make it manifest in a special way on such days as this.

Following the service Father O'Neill was surprised by the receipt of a check for $132, with the following note:

Glendale, Cal., Nov. 28, 1918.

Dear Father O'Neill: Please accept this little offering as a personal gift from the members of your congregation with best wishes for a pleasant Thanksgiving.

This note bore the signatures of Mesdames H. M. Doll, P. L. Ferry, M. J. Brennan, H. V. Henry, P. T. Flynn, N. A. Powers, J. H. Mellish and Miss Susan Wendell, as a committee.

The Father enjoyed a Thanksgiving dinner with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Neill, who joshed him a good deal about his "unpopularity" with his parishioners.

INFLUENZA SITUATION

According to the last report from the emergency hospital at fire station number two, there were but two patients there needing care, a situation highly encouraging. There were, however, several cases in the homes of residents, among them Tony Moniot, whose attack of influenza has developed into pleurisy. Miss Martino of Victor Court was said to be quite ill of influenza. Miss Winifred Bacon, who was taken last week, was able to be about and hoped soon to be in school again.

The report from Dr. Chase's office put emphasis on the fact that no "new locations" had been reported recently. There were influenza cases, it was admitted, but they were in families where others had been sick and conveyed the infection to the well ones.

A THANKSGIVING SURPRISE

Thursday was an exceedingly happy Thanksgiving for the J. Herbert Smith family. The great happiness began with a telegram from their son, Sergeant Seymour Smith, announcing that he would reach Los Angeles at 11 a. m. Of course they motored to the station, where they found him looking very soldierly and in splendid health, somewhat heavier than when he left and very much delighted to be at home again. He received his honorable discharge from the officers' training camp at Fort Lee in time to leave there Saturday night, but reserved the news of his coming for a Thanksgiving surprise. The members of the Smith family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hunchberger at a 5 o'clock Thanksgiving dinner and social evening.

COMMUNITY SINGING

The High School auditorium has been secured for next Thursday evening, December 5, and Mrs. L. N. Hagood reports that Prof. Kerchoffer of Hollywood will then be ready to resume the directorship of community singing, which will begin as usual at 7:45. Mr. Kerchoffer states that community singing was again taken up at Fullerton last week, and 350 singers came out to enjoy it. He also says it is being taken up in the east, especially in New York City, with renewed enthusiasm since the armistice was signed, as it is considered one of the most potent agencies in promoting patriotism and cementing the nation. There have been frequent inquiries in regard to the resumption of these "sings," and it is expected that this announcement will be hailed with enthusiasm.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT ELKS' LODGE

The annual memorial service for members who have passed away during the year will be held by B. P. O. E. Lodge No. 1289, at Elks club house Sunday afternoon, December 2, at 2 o'clock, in the lodge hall. The address will be made by Harry M. Tichnor of Pasadena, president of the State Elks' Reunion Association. The influenza epidemic has taken a heavy toll from this association and this memorial service will have a deep significance. The public is invited to attend.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

MANY WORSHIPERS GATHER FOR PRAYER AND PRAISE SERVICE AT M. E. CHURCH

An excellent audience assembled at the First Methodist Church of Glendale for the union Thanksgiving service Thursday morning. It was a worshipful audience which seemed deeply sensible of the special reasons for thanksgiving which recent events have given the world, and every worshiper entered into the service with fervor. Rev. W. E. Edmonds made the address. Prayers were offered by Rev. R. W. Mottern, O. P. Rider and H. S. Munger. Rev. C. A. Cole made an earnest appeal for the Armenians, setting forth in moving terms the terrible conditions in Syria and Armenia, and a collection was taken. A fine musical program was presented by the Methodist choir, with a solo number (Thanksgiving Song) by Miss Margaret Lusby. The congregation united in the singing of a Hymn of Praise and "America." There were beautiful organ numbers, and a special surprise in the Thanksgiving Song written by Samuel Parker.

"Our Nation's Strength" was the theme of Mr. Edmonds' address, his text, "Tell me, I pray thee, wherein thy great strength lieth?" being taken from Judges 16:6.

"We all love our country," he declared, "and all glory in its greatness. We take pride in its prosperity. Hope, prosperity and power may be made perpetual. In the providence of God we have been granted some mighty and practical ways of showing our love and interest. The test has lain in the little things—the postage stamp, the lump of sugar, the slice of bread—and none have suffered because of heatless, meatless, wheatless days. Self-sacrifice for the enrichment of others always reacts for good upon the giver. Give and it shall be given unto you.

"There is danger that in our celebration of peace we may go back to our old, selfish, boastful spirit, thinking our greatness consists only in man-power. We should never lose sight of the fact that our great strength does not lie in our vast material resources. The fact that our country is rich and powerful is no guarantee that it will always be powerful. On this point the voice of history is conclusive. Nations once powerful are now in a state of decadence. Materialism in the case of more than one people has proved its undoing.

"Nor can pronounced patriotism be regarded as a sure measure of strength. Any nation which can muster millions of sturdy patriots to fight her battles might be tempted to regard herself as invincible, but many such are today nothing but a memory. Patriotism on every hand is not a proof that the strength will be everlasting.

"Nor yet again does national strength depend on a people highly civilized. Where are those highly cultured nations of the long past? Gone forever; and are we, in respect to intellect and skill, any better than they? Have our philosophers more mental power, our poets finer imaginations? Do our artists excel? Have our chemists discovered the process by which the dead were preserved thousands of years ago? What of our architects when we compare their work with the Coliseum or the Arch of Titus? Neither vast material resources, armies and navies, enormous populations nor intense patriotism can preserve a nation from decay.

"Our great strength as a nation lies precisely where Samson's great strength lay, in our fidelity to God. As long as he was true to the truth he retained his strength. When he broke his vow his strength departed. He dallied with sin, played fast and loose with virtue and came to an inglorious end. Moral and spiritual forces are more to be desired and are more enduring than any mere physical and material power a nation can accumulate. The nation in harmony with God is always strong.

"If we are to preserve our heritage and not 'perish from the earth,' two things are essential: First, righteous government, and, second, a pure religion."

RED CROSS DIRECTORS TO MEET

A special meeting of the new board of directors of the Glendale Red Cross Chapter will be held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Red Cross headquarters on Brand Boulevard. At that time a chairman, vice chairman, secretary and treasurer will be elected, and three members who, in association with the officers, will constitute an executive committee empowered to transact business for the chapter in the interval between the monthly meetings.

"FREEDOM OF THE SEAS"

BRITISH OPINION SHOWS WIDE DIVERGENCE ON INTERPRETATION OF THE TERM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, November 29.—While it is generally agreed here that "Freedom of the Seas" is the most important problem before the world. British opinion shows widely divergent views as to what freedom of the seas means.

"The League of Nations is no counter price for freedom of the seas," declared Admiral Beresford. "The British empire can never consent to give up command of the seas but will welcome the assistance of other English speaking peoples."

H. G. Wells defined freedom of the seas as meaning guarantees by a league of nations of no discrimination against any nation in any way connected with the passage of the seas.

Bernard Shaw said that freedom of the seas meant that contraband, if seized, must be paid for, and that all nations have the same right of way on marine highways.

"I have not the slightest idea what 'freedom of the seas' means, nor have I met anyone who can tell me," declared Col. Repington, the famous military critic.

A. H. Pollen, the famous naval critic said that had America and other nations been unable to supply Germany with war materials early in the war, the war would have been much shorter, and that if the policy making such things possible is 'freedom of the seas', then 'freedom of the seas' is a costly luxury.

GERMANY MUST PAY THE COST

MUST NOT PAY INDEMNITY BY DUMPING CHEAP GOODS ONTO FOREIGN MARKETS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, November 29.—Lloyd-George, speaking here today, declared that Germany must pay the cost of the war "to the limit of her capacity." "The principle always has been that the loser pays," he said. "We must proceed upon this principle regarding Germany. Peace must be sternly just. Germany must not be permitted to pay indemnity by dumping cheap goods into this country.

LIBERTY FUEL

COMPETITOR OF GASOLINE NOW BEING MANUFACTURED IN LARGE QUANTITIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, November 29.—It became known today that Liberty Fuel far cheaper and in some respects better than gasoline for automobiles, stationary engines and airplanes is being manufactured in the United States in large quantities. It was developed after more than five months experimentation by Major Zimmerman and Captain Weinberger of the research and development divisions of the war department.

TEACHERS' SALARIES

WRIT OF MANDAMUS TO BE REQUESTED DIRECTING THE COUNTY OFFICIALS TO PAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Los Angeles, Nov. 29.—A writ of mandamus directing the county to pay salaries of teachers for the period the schools have been closed on account of influenza will be asked tomorrow by the County Teachers' Association, it was announced today. Three thousand teachers are affected and it was said $400,000 in money is tied up.

THE THOMAS MOONEY PROBLEM

COMMUTATION OF DEATH SENTENCE BY. GOV. STEPHENS FAVORABLY REGARDED IN WASHINGTON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, Nov. 29.—It was believed here today that the commutation of sentence of Thomas J. Mooney by Governor Stephens will do much to compose the national labor situation.

Los Angeles, Nov. 29.—A new trial for Thomas Mooney will be the next logical step, in the opinion of Seth Brown, president of the Los Angeles Central Labor Council.

"I believe that the commutation of the death sentence," Brown said today, "will lead to Mooney's being tried on other counts against him. I believe it would be the logical thing to do, and Governor Stephens' action paves the way."

Brown said he did not favor any strikes at this time in Mooney's behalf.

INFLUENZA SITUATION IN LOS ANGELES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Los Angeles, Nov. 29.—The Los Angeles influenza situation is better today than at any time in two months. New cases reported today number 212, with 14 deaths.

R. D. WHITE RETURNS

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS RELEASED FROM OFFICERS' TRAINING SCHOOL

Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Glendale city schools, is in receipt of a letter from Richardson D. White, announcing that he is about to receive his honorable discharge from the army training school, and hopes to be back in Glendale by the last of next week. On arriving he will resume his work as superintendent of schools, Dr. Shults having taken the work in the absence of Mr. White and with the understanding that he would resume the superintendency if he returned at any time before the first of June. The board is very appreciative of the help Dr. Shults has given them in a difficult interregnum period, but is glad Mr. White is now able to take up the work he organized and so thoroughly understands.

NEWS OF REV. AND MRS. NORTON

Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton spent Thanksgiving with their daughter, Mrs. Alma Hilliard of Thompson Place, Los Angeles. The Nortons have just received a beautiful present from their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jones, in the shape of a leather chair. Last Sunday they had the pleasure of entertaining old friends and parishioners of Mr. Norton when he was a preacher in Iowa. Their guests, Mrs. Orlando Rockwell and her son, Maurice, of Pomona, surprised them. Mr. Norton is very busy these days calling upon old comrades who are ill and the disabled among the Odd Fellows for the purpose of reporting to the post and lodge their condition. He says that on the 13th of next March he will have been a member of the Odd Fellows for fifty years, and has never been off the roll in all that time.

MRS. GLENWOOD JONES RESIGNS

Mrs. J. Glenwood Jones, executive secretary of the Junior Red Cross chapter, has found it necessary, because of removal to Los Angeles, to tender her resignation. At a recent meeting of the Junior Red Cross chapter the following resolutions were adopted:

"It is with the deepest regret that the Glendale Junior Red Cross chapter receives the resignation of Mrs. J. Glenwood Jones as executive secretary of this chapter.

"Be it resolved, therefore, that we extend to her our highest appreciation of her efficient and earnest work and sincerest thanks for her hearty co-operation."

Mrs. W. W. Worley of 521 North Kenwood street has kindly accepted the appointment of the executive secretaryship made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Jones.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE THANKSGIVING SERVICE

The outdoor Thanksgiving service held by the First Church of Christ, Scientiest, of Glendale, at 11 o'clock Thursday morning, in a sheltered spot in a beautiful alcove in Verdugo Canyon, more than met the expectations of those who planned for the event. Not less than 1,500 worshipers assembled to enjoy the service, which was the regular one provided by the Christian Science Quarterly for Thanksgiving and the same that would have been given in the church had the audience gathered there. A piano was provided to furnish an accompaniment for the soloist and for the singing in which the congregation united. Christian Scientists from Los Angeles and all surrounding towns participated, and in every respect it was a beautiful and uplifting service.

HAPPY REUNION

Mrs. C. F. Benner of Los Angeles entertained at a Thanksgiving dinner in honor of her son, Corporal Rolland W. Benner of Company C, 21st Infantry, and Mrs. J. Warwick and daughter, Imogene, of Vallejo, Cal.; also Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Meagher and daughter, Geraldine, of Glendale. Covers were laid for twelve.

The home was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and ferns. The evening was spent with several splendid musical numbers, consisting of a piano solo by Miss Mary Benner, two delightful solos by Mrs. Thomas Meagher and daughter, Geraldine; a reading which was given in a splendid manner by Mrs. Benner, also by little Violet Benner, and a Victrola program.

Harold Benner, who bade his friends good-bye a few weegs ago to leave for Kelly Field, Texas, for aviation work, was also present, and a reunion long to be remembered took place.

OVERLAND AUTOISTS

MILO McMILLAN AND SON ARRIVE AFTER LONG MOTOR JOURNEY

Last September Mrs. Milo McMillan and her daughters arrived in Glendale and established themselves, with the intention of remaining for a year or more, the girls enrolling in the public schools. Mrs. McMillan stated that her husband and son were coming overland by auto. Tuesday they arrived and the family had the pleasure of being united on Thanksgiving Day. They left their starting point, about 30 miles from Quincy, Ill., five weeks ago, and were forced to stop over in Missouri for a week on account of bad weather. When about 35 miles from Grand Canyon they had a break-down at 1:30 in the morning. Supposing that they were within a few miles of the canyon, they abandoned the machine and started on foot for the settlement. After walking a few miles they discovered a sign which read "19 Miles to Grand Canyon." This was discouraging, but they continued, and at daylight reached a ranchman's cabin. His supplies were limited, but his hospitality was not. He fed and warmed them and they hired him to ride on his pony to Grand View, 14 miles away, the nearest telephone station, and telephone for an auto truck to pull them in. Repair parts had to be brought from Flagstaff, and that meant a wait of two days, but it gave them time for a visit to Grand Canyon. When the car was again in traveling order they continued their journey, and all went well until they reached Barstow, where they had another breakdown, and where they decided to leave the car for repairs and come on by train.

In all they traveled about 2,250 miles, and were accompanied by P. K. Gamble, a former resident of Riverside, where he lived for eleven years. While it was a hard trip which he might hesitate to take again, Mr. McMillan says he enjoyed it and would not have missed the experience for a good deal.

The McMillans are living at 552 West Broadway, where the Hyatts formerly lived.

SERIOUS AUTO ACCIDENT

Quite a serious automobile accident occurred this (Friday) morning about 9:30 o'clock, at the intersection of Central and Wilson Avenues, when a truck owned and driven by Mr. Merrick of the Merrick Transfer Company, going west on Wilson, was struck in the rear end by a Buick car owned and driven by John Reed of 1530 Dryden Street, going south on Central. The impact was so great that the Buick skidded 20 feet and ran into a pepper tree on Central, which was knocked down and broken off. The front of the auto was completely demolished, and Robert Reed, son of the driver, who was a passenger, was badly lacerated by glass cuts and bruises. He was hurried to the Glendale Sanitarium, where he received attention from Dr. Westphal, who hoped his injuries would be confined to the lacerations, which were serious enough and are likely to cause some disfiguration.

The Merrick truck was taken to the S. & B. Garage and is said not to be very seriously damaged.

WORDS OF APPROVAL

Headquarters Military Committee,
Glendale, Cal., Nov. 28, 1918.

Mr. A. T. Cowan, Glendale Evening News, Glendale, Cal. Dear Sir: The military committee of District No. 7 desires to express to you their thanks and appreciation of your hearty and generous co-operation in connection with their duties during the past two months.

Through the medium of your paper we were enabled to keep in touch with the registrants during the time of military activities as well as during the epidemic, and a large amount of detail work was obviated owing to the publication of quotations and instructions daily.

The committee regrets that their activities will now cease, but feel amply repaid for their efforts, as they have the honor to retire in first place, being the only committee in the county, if not in the state, to have an organization of from 1,200 to 1,500 men formed and drilling under the direction of a staff of thirty thoroughly efficient instructors.

With best wishes for the continued success of your valuable sheet. Very truly,

MILITARY COMMITTEE.
Wm. C. Wattles, Captain, Chairman. Per D. Ripley Jackson, Captain.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight; Saturday increasingly cloudy. Severe frost Saturday morning.

WESTERN ASIA CONDITIONS

In the resume of world-war events in the Literary Digest for November 16, the following significant statements are made concerning the situation at the present time in western Asia:

The collapse of Turkey gave the Allies at once a new responsibility, as the Newark News points out. There are four million utterly destitute people whom we must care for, and several new nations which must be started on the road to self-government. The great and crying need of the situation, says the New York Evening Post, is that these races be given the assurance at the peace table that they will have separate and independent political life they have for generations been fighting for. France and Great Britain have officially stated that their aim is "the complete and final liberation of the peoples so long oppressed by the Turks and the establishment of governments and administrations deriving their authority from the initiative and the free choice of the native popnlations," and have announced that they will encourage and help the establishment of free governments in Armenia, Syria and Mesopotamia.

American responsibility in the Turkish empire is recognized by a number of authorities. A former American ambassador to Turkey, Mr. Oscar S. Straus, thinks "it will be for the welfare of the Turkish people if Turkey should be apportioned among England, France and Italy, and be ruled in the same manner as Egypt is ruled. Another former representative at the porte, Mr. Henry Morganthau, has publicly asserted that America must play a large part in rebuilding Turkey. Dr. James L. Barton, a missionary authority on the Near East, hears that Viscount Bryce favors the United States taking the major part in reorganizing and reshaping the governments of Turkey, Bulgaria and the Balkan Peninsula. "There is no country in the world which stands so close to Turkey as does the United States, as a result of missionary work which has been done there." Dr. Barton is now head of the great Armenian and Syrian relief committee in America, now engaged in raising thirty million dollars for the immediate relief of the four millions left in the wake of the receding war.

The apportionment for Glendale is $1,088 and for the Tropico District $233 of the $500,000 to be raised in Southern California.

GET BUSY ON PEACE PREPAREDNESS

So far as economic preparedness is concerned, we are now almost exactly where we were at the outbreak of the war. Because the war cut off imports and gave us a larger market for our goods we have left the free trade tariff law on the statute books. Because the war afforded our industries the greatest protection and aid in their history, we have been content to leave the gates of our markets wide open. We acknowledge that with the war over we shall be confronted with a problem of surplus labor, but we have taken no steps to prevent the flooding of our markets with the products of the labor of Europe and Asia. We learn from frequent news reports that Great Britain has been giving close and continuous attention to the after-war economic problems relating to the development of home industry and resumption of export trade. We observe that Japan has been increasing her manufacturing output and securing a larger hold upon trade in the United States and other lands. But we have been doing practically nothing to make substantial preparation for the keen commercial competition that awaits us as surely as a peace treaty shall be signed.

Shall we continue in a state of lethargy only to be awakened a few months hence with an excitedly announced discovery that "the world is on fire" with trade competition? Shall we be as dilatory in preparing for peace as we were in preparing for war?

VICTORY DANSANT

On Saturday, November 30, Miss Edith Lindsey and pupils will entertain with a "victory matinee dansant," formerly planned for Liberty day, October 12.

The regular class lesson will be given, starting at 2 o'clock, and all guests are invited to be present at that hour. All residents of Glendale interested in Miss Lindsay's art are welcome. At 3 o'clock the matinee will take place. The program is to be in keeping with the day and presents a number of children in special dances. Miss Lindsay will dance, for the first time, her newest composition, "On to Victory," representing France. Peggy Rosegrant will represent Belgium in song and will read "An American in Europe;" Russian dance, Barbara Blech and Sarah Chandler; Espania, Lois Naudain; Liberty Belle, Georgia French; Trojan Maiden, Dorothy Woods; Egyption Dance, Jean Oliver; Tarantelle (Italian), Charlotte Winsel, Dorothy McGinnis, Margaret Brown, Lois Naudain, Marcella Webb, Kathleen Woods, Dorothy Woods, Sarah Chandler, Mary Prowell; "America," by the class.

The program will be followed by a grand march and a social half hour. K. of P. Hall, Brand Boulevard and Park Avenue.

FIFTY THOUSAND GUIDE POSTS

Southern California, "the kingdom of the motor," boasts an automobile club more than twice the size of any similar organization in the world. Few motorists realize that the Automobile Club of Southern California, organized comparatively a few years ago, has grown by such phenomenal leaps that its membership roll now numbers more than 15,000 and its service is the most complete of the kind to be had anywhere.

Motor travel over our incomparable highways would be robbed of many of its joys were it not for the 50,000 guide posts, giving direction and mileage, that the Auto Club has erected at its own expense. Three sign-posting trucks are kept in constant service repairing and revising these thousands of placards, while in addition the club has literally "paved" the path to California by thoroughly signing both the Lincoln Highway and National Old Trails far into the east.

While signposting is the most conspicuous service rendered by the Automobile Club of Southern California, it is but one of the multiplex activities of that organization. The mapping and draughting department has prepared composite and strip maps of every highway and byway in California and has even gone so far as to issue one of the most comprehensive maps of transcontinental motor routes that is procurable. Every member receives a neat wallet containing scores of valuable maps which are up to the minute in every particular. These are supplemented by frequent bulletins and telephone information service by the club's touring bureau, which keeps in touch with road conditions everywhere.

No matter where one drives in Southern California, there is one of the seventeen branch offices of the Auto Club near at hand to render information and assistance. New branches are being established continually, and are eagerly sought for by rival communities.

The Automobile Club of Southern California is a co-operative organization of motorists for the benefit of motorists. All its receipts are used for the betterment and maintenance of its service. Among the many privileges that the members of this mammoth organization enjoy are: Free tow car service within Los Angeles County, insurance at cost through the club's inter-insurance exchange, services of experienced detectives employed by the club's theft bureau in case car is stolen, service of legal department in matters pertaining to motoring, and courtesies at the official hotels and garages selected by the club on all important routes.

Behold the automobile thief in a new role, that of "smash-up" artist. Three cases have been unearthed by Detective John Powell of the Automobile Club of Southern California's theft bureau during the past week in which valuable cars were stolen and deliberately wrecked for their parts and equipment. Using this method of operation makes it difficult for the detectives to make arrests, since most of the evidence is left in a crumpled mass by the roadside.

Last week a pair of bandits stole a machine belonging to P. G. Hanson, removed the fancy top in Los Angeles, drove to Santa Ana and deliberately smashed the car. After removing what parts and accessories they desired, the pair helped themselves to a Chandler and drove to San Diego, where they repeated the wrecking stunt.

A machine belonging to Frank Anderson was subjected to like treatment in Los Angeles several days later, leading the police to believe that the wreckers have returned from San Diego.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Harrison and W. C. Cameron spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Cameron's son in San Pedro.

Edgar I. Mills and wife and little son of Los Angeles were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. Mills' parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. I. Mills of 215 South Central Avenue.

The parties who took the coleus plant from porch at 237 Maryland Avenue Wednesday night are known, and will save trouble by returning the same.

C. M. Good of South Louise, his son, Clarence, and Mrs. John E. Edwards motored to Riverside Thursday to spend Thanksgiving with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Eustace B. Moore entertained on Thanksgiving, their guest list including, in addition to their own family, Mr. and Mrs. Harwood and family and W. H. Harrison.

Miss Mary Austin of Los Angeles and Mrs. J. W. Wright of Long Beach were dinner guests Thanksgiving Day at the home of W. A. Burns and family of Piedmont Park.

Guests at the Glendale Sanitarium enjoyed a special Thanksgiving dinner which included mock turkey, pumpkin pie and lots of goodies dear to the hearts of Americans.

Influenza has entered the home of Suel Spaulding, the druggist. Miss Spaulding is partially convalescent from it and Mrs. Spaulding is seriously ill.

Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Young and Miss Margaret Cross motored to Santa Barbara Thursday and spent Thanksgiving Day with Miss Cross' mother and sister, returning Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norton C. Wells of Vassar Street had the pleasure of entertaining Mr. Wells' mother at a Thanksgiving dinner. She came down from San Francisco to spend the holiday with them.

Friends of William Chappell will be glad to learn that he safely arrived in Holden, Neb., last Sunday, after a pleasant trip. He writes that the weather and landscape are not like Southern California with its sunshine and flowers.

Earl Van Dyke, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke, who has been ill of pneumonia following influenza, is now able to be out and hopes to be well enough to return to the high school next week. His little sister now has influenza.

Mrs. William Nichols and daughters of the Monte Vista Apartments entertained at dinner Thursday Mrs. M. G. Jackson and Miss Frances Jackson of West Wilson Avenue and Mrs. Marettie Cochonour of the Hawthorne Apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Woods and family spent a quiet Thanksgiving very happily with only their own members. They had expected guests from Camp Kearny, but received word Thursday morning they would be unable to leave the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. William La Fountain of Acacia Avenue entertained with a Thanksgiving dinner party on Thursday, covers being laid for their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norton Marshall and daughter, and Miss Martha La Fountain of Long Beach, for Grandma Lucinda Hotaling, William La Fountain, Jr., and the host and hostess.

Mrs. Flora Pixley and her daughter, Olive, entertained at dinner on Thanksgiving Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McArthur of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Dyke of Montebello, Mrs. Ray Henry, an old time friend from Colorado who is now living in Los Angeles, and also Mrs. Pixley's nephew, Loyal Dillon, who came up from the submarine base, where he is torpedo instructor.

Mrs. S. A. Carpi of 1611 South Glendale, assisted by her daughter and son, Catherine and Peter Carpi, entertained on Thanksgiving with a big family dinner. Their guest list included Mr. and Mrs. August Carpi, from Puente; Mr. and Mrs. James Carpi, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Carpi and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dixon and their daughter, Eva Dixon, who have just arrived from Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Dixon are the parents of Mrs. August Carpi.

The many friends of Charles A. Parker of 535 Oak Street will be interested in his business prosperity. Since last April he has been "maintenance man" in the electrical end of the business of the International Packing Corporation at East San Pedro. He has now become the maintenance man of the Seacoast Packing Company at the same point, in addition, with prospects of a third concern to look after. While it means increased work and responsibility, it also means increased remuneration. His work keeps him at San Pedro most of the time, but he is able to get home several times a week. He and Mrs. Parker have been residents of Glendale for about four years.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Hagood entertained their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. Merrill Brown, at a Thanksgiving dinner Thursday.

The delayed and long looked for mail from France has arrived, and Glendale mothers are reporting that these precious missives are being received today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Miller of West Acacia were host and hostess at a family dinner party on Thanksgiving Day, at which Mr. and Mrs. Hearn Robinson and son, Teddy; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Alexander, Doris, G. E. and Lester Lee Alexander, all of Glendale, were entertained; also Mr. and Mrs. L. Marshall and daughters, Henrietta and Regina, of Alhambra. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers, and a handsome floral piece centered the beautifully appointed table, where an old-fashioned turkey dinner, "with all the fixings," was served.

THANKSGIVING AT ADVENTIST CHURCH

Glendale Seventh-Day Adventists held an early morning Thanksgiving service at the Adventist Church, Isabel Street and Wilson Avenue, at 7 o'clock Thursday. Elder H. G. Lucas was in charge of the meeting. Although Thanksgiving is usually synonymous with hearty eating, Elder Lucas said he hoped his congregation would not partake of food on a great scale, but remember the hungry millions of Europe. "Let us, while thanking the Giver of all blessings for the bountiful supply provided us, also ask Him to provide a way to feed the hungry across the seas, and to hasten upon their mission the ships bearing food to those in distress," he said.

While this is a time for thanksgiving for peace, the speaker emphasized the desirability of individual peace in the soul. "You and I," he said, "can come to Jesus for peace and rest and safety, and thus end the wars of the soul. I thank God that He hears prayer and that He will give to us each, as individuals, peace in our souls, and that He is able to keep us faithful to Him to the end."

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO LITTLE FRENCH ORPHANS

Who will give five dimes for a "Merry Christmas" for a little French orphan? Any one willing to respond to this cry may call Glendale 805-W and get in touch with the local chairman, Mrs. C. B. Guittard, 524 Patterson Ave.

The committee has designed a novel cardboard stocking with places for five dimes in each stocking.

Every one is urged to help fill a stocking and return it to Mrs. Guittard as soon as possible, so that she may send them Tuesday, December 3, to the Los Angeles chairman, Mrs. E. Fletcher Scott, 721 South Olive Street.

The French war orphans have suffered beyond the imagination of those who did not see this great war. The Christmas stocking will cheer their hearts and make them very happy.

TODAY A SCHOOL HOLIDAY

Because Thursday was Thanksgiving and it would be hard to concentrate on studies Friday, but more because of a desire to be in harmony with the policy in Los Angeles to "stay at home" for a few days and try in that way to stamp out influenza, Glendale High School is closed today. It will reopen as usual Monday, when intensive work to make up for lost time will be pushed by students and teachers.

WEST GLENDALE RECEPTION IS POSTPONED

The reception which the West Glendale Church had planned for its pastor to take place tonight (Friday), on account of the influenza conditions, has been postponed indefinitely and will be announced later.

STATE NEWS.

Long Beach, Cal.—Alexander Baptistes, said to be the oldest and the richest Greek in the United States, has arrived here to spend the winter, and, incidentally, some of his riches. His age is given as nearly a month over 100 years and his wealth to easily exceed a million dollars. Added to the largeness of years and dollars, Baptistes also has pounds, that tip the scale at 200. Baptistes intends to spend many years in California. Despite his age, he looks no older than 60. Old age in his family was a habit. His father lived to be 199 years of age. His mother passed the century mark. He himself expects to be able to take nourishment until he's about 125. Temperate habits and a diet of corn bread, buttermilk and vegetables are largely responsible for his exceptional age and good health. Incidentally, Baptistes escaped the last draft registration by about 54 years.

Sacramento, Cal.—The grand total of teachers employed in the publis schools of California numbers 20,588, of which 17,060 are women and but 3,528 men. Kindergartens employ 672 women; elementary schools employ 1,112 men and 13,137 women; special and regular high schools employ 1,862 men and 2,942 women.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Information that the government officials of The Netherlands are fostering a movement for a large emigration from that country to the United States was given here by F. J. Zeehandelaar, consul for The Netherlands. The general purpose, it is said, will be to direct the location of these immigrants so that they may at once undertake lines of work with which they are familiar. It is expected that a large number of them will come to Southern California to engage in dairying, in which they are experts, and in general agricultural interests. Mr. Zeehandelaar has forwarded to Holland a large amount of literature setting forth the advantages of the southland and Arizona.

Woodland, Cal.—Schools of this city will reopen on Monday, December 2, after having been closed for several weeks because of the epidemic of Spanish influenza. It is also expected that the mask ordinance will be repealed here the first part of the coming week and the influenza emergency hospital is to be closed within the next few days.

Sacramento, Cal.—Is the state legislature to convene in its regular sessions in January? If the flu-mask ordinance is legal, the municipality, by keeping the ordinance in effect, could forbid the state legislature to hold sessions in January under the anti-public assemblage clause. The arrest of the state workers has raised the question, and Assemblyman-Elect Lee Gebhart has been retained by the defendants, the case having been set for trial in police court Saturday. The ordinance has been rescinded.

Los Angeles.—While awaiting instructions from the secretary of the interior respecting the classification of public lands in Southern California that may be available for farm homes for discharged soldiers and sailors, Receiver Alex Mitchell of the United States land office is receiving scores of inquiries from persons requesting information.

Los Angeles.—Will women war workers hang up their trousers beside hubby's uniform when the soldiers come home, and go back to the fluffy, filmy, flimsy things that aided women in being attractive before the war? Opinion differs as to whether they will or should. "Women can play just as vital a part in world affairs in skirts as in trouers," said Mrs. W. W. Wier of the Twentieth Century Club. 'Let's get back to skirts, quick" said Mrs. Paul Ridley of the Ivy Club. "No," was mere man's verdict from the mouth of L. F. Vetter. And Mrs. W. B. Thorne would compromise with a set of rules for trousers etiquette. They are: "Trousers mustn't be worn socially or for promenade."

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. A. B. Prichard, D. D., of Los Angeles, will preach the "preparatory sermon" this evening at 7:30 in the auditorium of the church. The general public is invited. The communion service will be held Sabbath morning at 11 o'clock. New members will be received.

HOW IT HAPPENED

"How does it happen," said the teacher to the new pupil, "that your name is Allen and your mother's name is Brown?"

"Well, explained the small boy, after a moment's thought, "you see she married again and I didn't."

Is Candy a Luxury?

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANDY

Do you know that candy is a very desirable quick fuel food—so recognized by physicians and scientific men generally?

Candy furnishes energy and heat and material for growth, repair and regulation of body processes in the form of carbohydrates and protein foods.

People are coming to know candy in its true light as a food—not a luxury as many have supposed.

Consider the food value of the chocolate cream! The principal ingredients are chocolate, milk and sugar. When fruit or nuts are added the food value is proportionately increased.

All these ingredients are food products which the human system craves and demands.

"But," someone rises to remark, "candy contains sugar and the food administration says to save it."
Quite true! If we are to guarantee the soldiers' ration we must stick by our own.

So the U. S. Food Administration has reduced the amount of sugar allowed the candy manufacturers to half what they used in normal times.

When you see candy offered for sale you may know it is made with sugar set aside for that purpose—and part of it is yours. Eat what you like, but in moderation, in order not to deprive others. That's the message of the candy industry to you!

BULLY FOR JOSH!

"Which of the big battles has your boy Josh been in?"

"All of 'em," replied Farmer Corntossel decisively."

"Then you've heard from him?"

"No. But I never knew Josh to be anywhere in the neighborhood of a fight wtihout being in it."

THE GOOD PART

Jimmie," said a friend to a 6-year-old boy, "I hear you are going to school now."

"Yes, sir," was the reply.

"What part of school do you like best then?"

"Comin' home," was the prompt reply.

A HELPFUL HINT

"Where do you get your jokes?"

"Out of the air, so to speak. Why do you ask?"

"Nothing. I would merely suggest that you go where there is some fresh air."

VACATE!

"Are you Mrs. Pilington-Haycock?"

"No."

"Well, I am, and this is her pew."

SO THERE

"Do you like olives?"

"No, I don't like olives, and I'm glad I don't, because if I did, I'd eat 'em—and I hate the taste of 'em."

SIXTY YEARS

From now, about 1978, Booth, the Coffee King, will abdicate his throne and retire from active business life to that little plat of land which we all have a right to, and when we are no use above the sod, some one will bury us whether we have money to pay for it or not. Booth hopes to leave all his money (query: if he has any?) to the city to provide a park at the corner of Brand and San Fernando Road, with a bandstand and music two or three times a week; artificial lakes, fountain, swimming pool, gymnasium and a nice hot house for ferns, orchids and other rare tropical plants, with rustic houses and rustic benches all around, and free lunches, with plenty of Booth's Better Blend Coffee for all the thirsty souls to drink. LA CRESCENTA

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Brown entertained Mrs. E. N. Nettleton and Mrs. Gertrude Hoggath for dinner on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Murdock spent part of Tuesday at their La Crescenta property looking after damages from the wind storm.

Tom Bonetto, who is at Camp Kearny, may be home for Christmas. The boys are being mustered out very rapidly now.

Miss Marguerite Hauber was home for Thanksgiving Dinner.

Mr. T. P. Dyer was a visitor Wednesday at his home place.

The Red Cross classes are working on hospital garments for our sick and wounded boys. These will be used here and a vast quantity is needed. La Crescenta is asked to furnish a number and there will not be finished in time if we do not have more help. Red Cross members, will you come out the two days of next week and work for La Crescenta and our boys? Your boy is over there, and my boy, and perhaps the garment you are making will be needed for him. It is essential that we fill our quota, so come out both days next week and work. Mrs. Ayres and Mrs. Miller will gladly welcome you. Come and bring your lunch and stay all day.

School attendance is back to normal. Nearly all the children have returned to their classes.

Mrs. Lumm has returned to her Crescenta home for the winter.

Margaret Leenhouts had as guests a niece and nephew of Mrs. F. M. Scott.

Sidney Brown writes that his company is being mustered out and he may be back for Christmas dinner. Here's hoping so.

Thrift Stamp pledges—are you keeping them? Did you know your time is up next month? Pay up today and finish your pledge and help your government by lending your quarters. It will help to bring the boys home that much sooner. Try it and see, any way.

The date for the next picture show will be announced next week.

Miss Florence Bruce entertained one of her school chums for dinner Thursday.

Mrs. Maranville is expecting Lowe home from France with the next division mustered out.

Mrs. Lewenstein and Ethel had George and other guests on Thanksgiving Day for dinner.

TUJUNGA

A severe windstorm coming from the west arrived at Tujunga on Saturday night and continued through Monday night. Aside from lifting some paper from roofs, no damage was done, not even to fruit.

Dr. White and daughter, Rebecca, have secured their tickets, passports, etc., and will sail for Honolulu on the 24th of this month, for a visit with the doctor's son and wife. "A pleasant voyage and safe return" is the wish of their friends.

The members of the Red Cross Auxiliary sent in towels and handkerchiefs for the linen shower now being made for the French. As there are no more cases of "flu" here, it is hoped that the rooms may be opened for further Red Cross work.

Thanksgiving day was observed here. The stores and post office closed while their employes helped to stow away the usual dinner with greater thankfulness than usual.

Mr. Wright, on Michigan Highway, is enjoying his annual vacation from work, but finds it only a change from mail carrier work to ranch work, which means as many hours and the bringing up of the year's work.

Mrs. Haigh was a caller in Tujunga on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy and son came from Los Angeles for a short stay at their home on Monte Vista Boulevard.

Miss Avey came up from Los Angeles for a short stay, after caring for "flu" cases as emergency help.

Quite a number of old residents have been coming up to visit their places and put them in order. Among them are Mrs. Forrest, Miss Hagenbush and Mrs. Duprey and daughter. There is no more beautiful place for a home than Tujunga.

The little store at the corner often overhears funny things. Not long since the man of the house went away during hot weather, and told his son to milk the cow in the morning before going to school. On his return he could find no milk, and asked the boy where he put it. "I didn't milk her," was the reply. It was so hot I thought the milk would keep better in her and we would have more tonight." Such is the philosophy of youth.

Mr. and Mrs. Sieftkin will spend Thanksgiving with friends in Los Angeles.

It is Thanksgiving week and we have more to be thankful for than ever. And if we have remembered that some one else may be hungry, and have helped them to be thankful for your kindness, the week will hold for us more enjoyment; for if you do it for the least of one of these you have done it for Him, and blessings are sure to follow.

LA CANADA

Harry White of the Packer & White auto agency has resigned from the directorate of the Valley Water Company, and L. W. Jutton will be elected as his successor. Mr. McKay, president of the company, is expected to get home from Camp Hancock, Ga., about the 15th of December. Mrs. McKay is there with him and will not return until he comes back. He is anxious to stay until he completes his training and receives his commission. Mr. McKay is a lawyer and will probably resume practice in Los Angeles. He gave up an excellent salary when he went to camp.

A moving picture show for the benefit of the Red Cross will be put on at the La Canada school house Friday night, December 6. The play will be "The Saint's Adventure." No show has been given here for about six weeks, and it is hoped that all La Canada will patronize this one.

Lloyd Lanterman, who is in the aviation corps and stationed at March Field, Riverside, has been in quarantine for some time, but was hoping to get home for Thanksgiving.

ESTABLISHING A DEAD LINE

An old negro sergeant was drilling a company of rookies. After commanding "right dress" several times, with no good results, he pulled out a revolver and shouted:

"Niggahs, when I gives 'right dress,' I'se gwine to shoot down this here line and you niggers dress on the smoke."—Judge.

HE SAID SOMETHING

"The next person who interrupts the proceedings," said the judge, sternly, "will be expelled from the court room and ordered home."

"Hooray!" cried the prisoner.

EVERYTHING JUST SO

Diner—"Look here! Isn't that a hair in the butter?"

"Waiter—"Yes, sir, a cow's hair. We always serve one with the butter to show that it isn't oleomargarine."

HAS A CINCH

"What are your chances of winning that rich young girl?"

"Fine. I've got her father and mother and all her uncles and aunts kocking me."

Mrs. Youngbride: "Did your former mistress assist you with the cooking, Bridget?"

Bridget: "Yes, ma'am; by keeping out of the kitchen.—Ex.
